Mitch Golish Expands Plant for Building Miniature Pool Tables

A new Harrisburg industry, which has been buzzing for the past five weeks, today nearly doubled its number of employees.

It's at the Mitch Golish Music Co. on South Granger street, where the demand for miniature pool tables has been so great that the force has been increased and the building is being enlarged.

Head man is Mitch Golish, who has had 23 years' experience with coin-operated machines. Right now his company has orders for at least 500 of the coin-operated pool tables and there likely will be a lot more.

To date a total of 90 tables has been shipped and a force of 11 young men—seven on the day shift and four on the night shift—has been busy with production that has reached thirty a week.

Building New Addition

Today eight more workers were scheduled to be hired from a waiting list of 25 applicants.

Work is under way on a 36 by 24 feet concrete addition at the rear of the building, which Mr. Golish bought two years ago. This room will be used for spraying the tables and for the sawing and making of parts.

Also to the rear will be built a frame addition of the same dimensions, to be used for storage. And if necessary, the vacant lot to the south of the building, which Mr. Golish also owns, can be converted into factory space.

The factory idea started about nine weeks ago. The Golish company had around 100 coin-operated mechanical pool tables which had lost their appeal and some way to salvage them was wanted.

First Distributed on Route

Mr. Golish, his brother Rudy, and two employees, Raymond Craver and Robert Wright, decided upon the idea of converting the mechanical tables into a small coin-operated pool table where players could compete with real pool balls and cue sticks.

The group made up six pool tables but they didn't work. So they tore them down and started all over again. They came up with a table that worked.

Twenty-five tables were built by the regular Golish employees and were distributed on the route out

Harrisburg Merchants, Professional Men Join In Sponsoring Swap Day

At least 60 Harrisburg merchants and professional men have joined in sponsoring Harrisburg Swap Day this Thursday, and indications are that the event, first of its type ever held here, will be a big success.

Anyone who is not regularly engaged in selling is eligible to take part in Swap Day, and there is no charge or entry fee of any kind. All that is necessary is to bring your goods to town Thursday and register as a seller at the Swap Day headquarters tent on the southeast corner of the courthouse lawn. Those who do not want to sell their goods themselves may have them sold by the Endsley brothers, auctioneers, at no cost to the seller.

Sponsors of the event include the following: Barter's Rexall Drugs, Southeastern Illinois Gas Co., Palace Clothing House, Doty Shop, Mac's Car & Home Supply, Myrons, Brokerage, C. F. Gidcomb Furniture, Sears Roebuck Catalog Store, Durham Hardware, Green's Paint & Wallpaper, Davenport Furniture and Carpet Store, W. A. Grant Jewelry Co.

Winkelman's Jewelry, F. W. Woolworth Co., S. S. Kresge Co., National Wallpaper and Paint Co., Skaggs Electric, Arensman's Shoe Store, Hart's Department Store, Moore Pharmacy, Polk's Shoe Store, Jim's Family Shoe Store, Schrier's Cafe, Fashion Palace, Excel Market, First National Bank, Henry's Typewriter Service, Skaggs Pharmacy, The Daily Register, Jackson's Drugs, Davenport Jewelers, Harrisburg National Bank, Craggs-DeVilz Furniture and Appliances, Kroger, Gaskins Lumber Co., Carps, Inc., Lloyd L. Two New Teachers for Dorrisville School; Term to Begin Sept. 3

Dorrisville school will open Sept. 3 with two new teachers, Principal Brose Phillips announced today.

They are Bill McNew of Harrisburg, who will teach fifth grade, and Donald Miller, music teacher. McNew taught at East Ledford last year but this will be the first year of teaching for Miller, who has a degree from Milligan College in Tennessee. His home is Danville, Ind.

Mr. Phillips said physical and dental examinations will be required for all pupils entering kindergarten, first grade and fifth grade.

New seats have been installed in the seventh and eighth grade study hall, Mr. Phillips stated.

Wabash Memorial Bridge Distributes Shawnee Area Maps

MT. VERNON, Ind. — A folder showing routes leading to the Wabash Memorial bridge and points, particularly in southern Illinois, is ready for distribution by the Indiana State Toll Bridge commission. The folder is illustrated with pictures of the Shawnee National Forest and other points in southeastern Illinois, Don Blair, bridge superintendent, announced.

The map, with mileages shown, is the first to be published of the Shawnee Forest area with routes to the Little Garden of the Gods, the Old Stone Face, Pounds Hollow lake, the Old Iron Furnace and numerous other places of interest.

There are illustrations of the Iron Furnace, Old Stone Face, Little Garden of the Gods, the cave at Cave-in-Rock, Bell Smith Spring and Fort Massac park.

First folders will be distributed tonight to representatives of the Shawnee Hills Recreation association at Metropolis.

Individuals desiring folders can address requests to The Wabash Memorial Bridge, Mt. Vernon, Ind. They are free.

Treasury Cautions Public Against Use Of Savings Bonds in Chain Letter Schemes

The U. S. Treasury is cautioning the public against the current rash of Savings Bond "chain letter" schemes.

"U. S. Savings Bonds themselves are an absolutely safe investment, free from elements of risk because the principal and interest are fully guaranteed by our Government," T. Merle Paul, State Savings Bonds Director said today. "However, these schemes for acquiring Savings Bonds 'for nothing' are a risky gamble."

He said that "the Post Office Department's experience with endless chain schemes over a period of many years is that most participants lose their entire investment. This outcome is inevitable because the supply of interested persons is soon exhausted. The greater the amount to be invested, the sooner the saturation point is reached."

"Some organizers of the new 'chain letter' plans imply that the Government and banks approve of the idea in order to increase Bond sales," Mr. Paul continued. "This is not true. The Treasury Department, through the Federal Reserve Bank, has instructed banks and other issuing agencies to reject applications for the purchase of Savings Bonds where the applicant states, or where the issuing agent has reason to believe, that the Bonds will be used in the chain letter scheme."

He reported the Treasury's stand was taken more than two years ago when the chain-letter device involving Savings Bonds was first brought to its attention. The scheme, then as now, was felt to be contrary to the Government's intended purpose in selling Savings Bonds to the public.

"Savings Bonds are issued primarily for the purpose of enabling individuals and families to save safely and regularly for important long-range goals," Mr. Paul said. "The Treasury wants to sell as many Bonds to as many Americans as possible — but always within the framework of thrift, and not as a vehicle for this or any other 'get-rich-quick' scheme."

Communist Coup in Syria Setback for West Policy

Asks $50,000 Judgment

A $50,000 judgment is sought from the estate of the late Earl Brown, Eldorado, as a result of the crash on U. S. Route 45 between Harrisburg and Eldorado June 27 that took the lives of four men and hurt four others.

Plaintiff is Norman Taylor, Harrisburg, father of Robert Eugene Taylor who was one of the injured. Mr. Taylor's complaint was filed in circuit court in Harrisburg by Atty. Jack C. Morris of Eldorado and Atty. R. W. Harris of Marion.

The Taylor boy suffered a broken leg, broken arm, chest and head injuries and a fractured skull, the complaint says. He was a station wagon driven by Marion Lasseter that figured in a crash with Earl Brown's auto.

Lasseter, Brown, Jimmy Leigh Smith and Bertis Lee Webb were killed and Edwin Cannon, Joe Allen Moore, Billy Watson and the Taylor lad were injured in the crash.

The complaint charges that Brown, who was alone, drove his auto over the center line into the lane of the approaching traffic and the collision resulted.

Gives Russia Firm Toehold On Mediterranean

Israel Fears New Middle-East Explosion

By WALTER LOGAN

United Press Staff Correspondent
A communist-backed coup that placed Syria under iron control of a pro-Soviet military clique touched off urgent Anglo-American consultations today in London and roused fears in neighboring Israel of a Soviet-backed invasion.

United Press diplomatic correspondent K. C. Thaler reported in London that diplomats considered that the Red move in Syria had given Russia a firm toehold on the Mediterranean in the severest challenge yet to the Eisenhower Doctrine.

The West regarded the Syrian development as the worst setback for Western Mideast policy since Egypt seized the Suez Canal a year ago. There were indications other NATO powers might be called in to confer on the threat to Allied strategy involving NATO partner Turkey and the members of the Baghdad Pact.

Eliav Simon, United Press correspondent in Israel, said in a Jerusalem dispatch there were fears a new Middle East explosion was in the making, backed by Soviet money, tanks, guns, planes and ships.

The Jerusalem dispatch said Syria always has been strongly anti-Israel and that the new military rulers can be relied upon to seize the earliest opportunity to try and revenge their defeat in the Palestine war.

It was noted that Gen. Alif Bizri, the new pro-Communist Syrian leader, was one of the Syrian heroes of that war. Now he would be assured of Soviet support in event of hostilities—although the Eisenhower Doctrine provides U. S. support against Communist aggression.

Israel political circles said they were uncertain Russia would risk a world war by pushing Syria into attacking Israel with the possibility of American intervention. But they said Syria may take the risk and use its vast arms supply for an attack alone.

London dispatches said two long-term courses appeared open to the West—to strengthen the Eisenhower Doctrine and to reinforce the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact. In the meantime, Britain was reported urging the United States not to break off diplomatic relations with Syria despite Syrian charges the U. S. plotted to overthrow the government.

Reports filtering through heavy Syrian censorship said a major purge was being carried out of neutral or pro-Western military officers and that the military clique would soon launch a drive against its political opponents, the weakened Populist Party.

There also were reports that Kurdish tribesmen loyal to the ousted regime were preparing a revolt against the leftist leaders who are backed by Soviet guns, planes and tanks. One report reached Amman, Jordan, that Damascus was ringed with tanks and troop carriers and that military camps had been set up near the border of pro-Western Lebanon.

The new Syrian military leader was Gen. Alif Bizri, promoted from colonel to take over from the more moderate Gen. Tewfik Nizamiedine, long a stumbling block to the young officers' clique. Bizri has been called a Communist party member.

Reports circulated—without confirmation—that Soviet Communist Party Leader Nikita Khrushchev and possibly Defense Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov might fly to Syria and Egypt to try to consolidate the Soviet's growing foothold.

Eisenhower in 11th Hour Effort To Restore Cuts

Confers with Rayburn, Sends Four To Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower counterattacked today in an 11th hour effort to save the foreign aid program from crippling budget cuts.

He held an unusual breakfast conference with Sam Rayburn, Speaker and Democratic leader of the House, and appealed for his help in restoring the 30 per cent economy cut made by the House last week.

At the same time he sent a task force of four top administration officials to Capitol Hill to plead with the Senate Appropriations committee to put back $809,000,000 cut by the House.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles led the delegation of witnesses. They warned that U. S. prestige and security are threatened by a budget slash so large that would change the basic nature of the foreign aid program.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, retired chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, delivered the bluntest warning.

The alternative to the size of the military aid program asked by the administration is for the United States to increase its own defense strength and draft more men so that "nearly every able-bodied young man of military age would spend several years of his life in military service overseas."

To Fight For Some Increase

"The cost would be staggering," he added, "or," he said, "We could adopt a 'Fortress America' concept."

Dulles said the House cuts are so severe that they will make the free world wonder whether it can count on the U. S. as a dependable friend.

Despite Dulles' pleas the Senate was expected to restore little if any of the House cut.

Republican leaders, however, planned to make a fight for at least some increases.

Dulles said the House action is "not just saving money. It is dangerously eroding the security policies which for a decade have been sponsored by Democratic and Republican leadership."

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said a television show Sunday night he will "do what I can" to get the Senate to put up "in the neighborhood" of three billion dollars. That is much closer to the $3,367,000,000 Eisenhower wants than the $2,524,760,000 voted by the House.

But acting Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield (Mont.) has forecast a Senate figure of only about $2,800,000,000 and there is pressure for a stiffer Senate slash.

Harry W. Dorris Sr. Dies at 65

Funeral Services Will Be Held Tuesday at 2 p. m.

Harry W. Dorris Sr., 65, of 207 East Church street died in his home at noon Sunday. Mr. Dorris, a well known Harrisburg business man, operated the Coca-Cola bottling plant for many years. He and his brother, the late Charley Dorris, began the bottling operation March 1, 1923, and Harry Dorris continued in the business until March of 1949.

Mr. Dorris had his first heart attack 10 years ago, but had only been restricted in his activities for three years. He became critically ill on Sunday a week before his death.

Mr. Dorris was born in Saline county, in the Ingram hill community, and had lived in the Harrisburg area almost all of his life. He was married Jan. 4, 1917, to Permelia Flannigan, who survives. Children of this marriage are: Mrs. Bill (Sarah) Johnson, Harrisburg, Harry W. "Buddy" Dorris Jr., Boulder, Colo., Robert Dorris, Rosiclar, Miss Elizabeth Dorris, Palatine, and Mrs. John (Judy) Lockwood, Chicago. There are nine grandchildren. His brother, Jesse Dorris, Skokie, also survives.

Mr. Dorris was an elder of the First Presbyterian church and had served as Sunday school superintendent and teacher, as long as his health permitted. He was a member of the Masons and formerly of the Kiwanis club. He served on the Harrisburg water board and was chairman at one time.

The body will lie in state in the chapel of the Harrisburg funeral home until the funeral at 2 p. m. Tuesday. Funeral services will be held in the First Presbyterian church with the Rev. William Burroughs officiating. Burial will be in the Sunset Lawn cemetery.

Found Dead in Luxurious Flat

Police Investigate Sleeping Pill Death of Churchill's Son-In-Law

LONDON (AP)—A police investigation into the apparent sleeping pill suicide of Antony Beauchamp, 39-year-old son-in-law of Sir Winston Churchill, turned today to London's smartest society leaders.

Beauchamp (pronounced beach-sham), estranged husband of actress Sarah Churchill, was found dead in his luxurious Hyde Park Gardens flat, a telephone dangling near his lifeless hand.

Police and firemen broke into the apartment after they received a telephone call from a former lady-in-waiting to the Queen. They said Beauchamp, a husky, dark-haired society photographer, had died of an overdose of sleeping tablets.

On Top of World

"This must have been an accident," Beauchamp's sister-in-law Mrs. Clive Entwistle insisted. "Antony was shortly going to produce a new film and was on top of the world."

Police based the suicide belief on a report by Lady Jane Vane Tempest-Stewart, 25, a maid-of-honor at the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, who said she talked on the telephone with him apparently as he lay dying.

She said Beauchamp telephoned her of his intentions and that she called police emergency number 999 in a frantic plea for help.

"I pleaded with Antony," she told police. "I tried to persuade him not to be foolish. I was frantic. While I talked suddenly the line seemed to go dead."

Police misunderstood her excited and confused pleas and sent a car to her apartment instead. She directed them to Hyde Park Gardens where they broke into Beauchamp's apartment and found him dead.

Marriage On Rocks

Beauchamp, whose mother operated an exclusive photographer's studio in Park Lane, was born Antony Entwistle, but changed his name in 1939. He became wealthy in his own right photographing Britain's stage and society beauties. He went to Hollywood where he photographed Marilyn Monroe and nearly became an actor.

He and Sarah Churchill were married in a secret ceremony at Sea Island, Georgia, in 1949, four years after Miss Churchill divorced comedian Victor Oliver. Friends said their marriage has been on the rocks for about two years and that they had not been living together.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Teamsters Slow Learners

The developing drive to elect Teamster Vice President James Hoffa as successor to Dave Beck, the union's fading president, does not suggest that the Teamsters have learned much from their troubled 1957 days.

True enough, Hoffa was freed by a federal jury on charges of paying a bribe to a Senate committee representative to obtain documents in the committee's possession.

But the Senate rackets committee already had spread across its record a good deal of testimony indicating that Hoffa is no more desirable than Beck as a union leader.

In the light of this record, the election of Hoffa to the Teamsters presidency would constitute open defiance of the top AFL-CIO leadership and of public opinion generally. The big federation has demanded a real union house cleaning.

If the Teamsters choose instead to sweep their dirt under the rug, the likely outcome will be their removal beyond the pale of honest, responsible unionism.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Nixon Is Real Backstage Power Behind Civil Rights Impasse; Big City Mayors Helped Stymie Natural Gas Bill; Ike
And Milton Differ On
"Good Neighborliness."

WASHINGTON. — Most vigorous and effective current pusher for the present civil rights bill is Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota. Talking to Senate Leaders Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Bill Knowland of California the other day he said:

"You are two big strong men.
Why don't you go over to the House of Representatives and exercise some influence?"

"Here is Joe Martin who never wanted a civil rights bill before in his life but who is now the great champion of the Negro. He even says the NAACP doesn't represent the Negro. He wants to go further than the NAACP."

"These great fighting liberals from Connecticut and Massachusetts like Meade Aileon and Joe Martin are having a wonderful time with their newfound religion," said Humphrey, "but they are not helping the rest of the country."

Knowland has been working conscientiously on the House Republicans to get acceptance of a modified civil rights bill. However, his problem is much more basic. It's a man who doesn't love him too much or vice versa
— Vice President Nixon.

The real backstage manipulator on civil rights is Nixon, who wants the civil rights issue held over until next year's elections. Nixon has been calling congressmen, demanding that they stand pat, make not a single change in the original House civil rights bill.

SPEAKER RAYBURN'S SPONGE
Shortly before much-loved Speaker Sam Rayburn threw in the sponge for the natural gas bill at this session of Congress, Rep.
Torrey MacDonald of Boston

came to see him.
"Is the gas bill likely to come up for a vote before Thursday, Mr.
Speaker?" asked McDonald. "I want to leave town until Thursday, and I want to be on deck to vote against it."

This was bearding the lion in his den, because Mr. Sam has been one of the chief backers of the gas bill. However, Mr. Sam also believes in the democratic principle of letting every man vote. He blinked a bit, then replied:

"It won't be brought up before Thursday."

Shortly after that Mr. Sam publicly threw in the sponge until next year.

Reason Sam threw in the sponge was the efforts of some young, vigorous congressmen led by Macdonald of Boston, John Dingell of Detroit, and Charles Vanik of Cleveland, all Democrats, all first or second-term congressmen.
Backing up their efforts were such important organizations as the Alabama League of Municipalities and many of the mayors of the United States.

A dozen or so big city mayors came to Washington to testify against the gas bill, while Ed Reid, head of the Alabama League of Municipalities, wrote to every Alabama congressman asking them how they planned to vote on the gas bill, received word from every Alabama legislator except Frank ("all is made for love") Boykin of Mobile that they would vote against the gas bill. Boykin was out of town.

IKE VS. MILTON
President Eisenhower has indicated that he sometimes argues with himself as to the best method of resolving the nation's problems.
Apparently he hasn't argued with his brother Milton lately about Latin American friendship.

For, while brother Milton was in Mexico trying to strengthen Mexican-American friendship, his brother in the White House was sponsoring a bill that would paralyze the most important industry in Mexico—lead and zinc mining.

It would also seriously hurt another good neighbor, Peru.

Oscar Chapman, former Secretary of the Interior, who used to boss the nation's mining, called some of these facts to the attention of the House Ways and Means committee recently when it considered the Eisenhower administration proposal to place an excise import tax on lead and zinc.

"Mexico is the largest customer of the United States in all of Latin America," reminded Chapman,
"and the third ranking U. S. customer in the entire world."

"In 1956," he said, "Mexico imported $840 million worth of U. S. goods. And exported to us only $400 million, leaving Mexico with an unfavorable balance of trade of more than $400 million for the year. If we now cut off her export of lead and zinc, which constitute about 20 per cent of her entire exports, we will diminish the goods she can buy from us."

"International good will that we have built up with Mexico over the years is power," continued the former Secretary of the Interior.
"It is more powerful in my opinion than an arsenal of military weapons. We must remember, however, that words of international cooperation and good will will have a hollow ring if a piece of hastily enacted protectionist legislation brings economic disaster to Mexican economy."

Note—This would be the first tariff bill enacted by Congress since the disastrous Smoot-Hawley bill in the 1930's.

Emergency Hospital Caravan to Be Shown at Du Quoin State Fair

The first Mobile Emergency Hospital Caravan in the United States, sponsored by the Illinois Department of Public Welfare in cooperation with the Illinois Civil Defense Agency, will have a special showing at the DuQuoin State Fair, Aug. 25 to Sept. 2.

Arrangements for the exhibit were made by L. W. Mercer, director of Civil Defense for the Du Quoin area. He enrolled volunteers to help set up the mobile exhibit Aug. 22, and nurses to help "man" the display during the fair and explain the operation of the hospital.

According to Otto L. Bettag, M.
D., director of the Illinois Department of Public Welfare, "Governor William G. Stratton, upon declaration of a disaster status in Illinois, may make the mobile emergency hospital available for use in the event of disasters such as epidemics, floods, tornadoes or fires."

The mobile emergency hospital contains a representative portion of all equipment and facilities for a complete 200-bed Civil Defense Emergency Hospital, Dr. Bettag said. For display purposes, the hospital is transported in a caravan of two trucks and one passenger car for personnel.

The Federal Civil Defense Administration, through the Illinois Civil Defense Agency, has allocated 132 complete 200-bed hospitals to Illinois, to supplement the existing hospital facilities during disasters.

These hospital units are stored in sealed boxes at various locations, 16 of them at Illinois Department of Public Welfare institutions. The sealed boxes, however, may be opened only in event of disaster or other emergency.

"So the public may actually see one of the hospitals, the Department of Public Welfare has secured the loan of a special FCDA hospital which has now been mobilized," Dr. Bettag said.

It will be used for display, for training purposes, and for use in civilian disasters.

Noting that 15,000 square feet of space is needed to set up the entire hospital with all 200 beds, he said the mobile emergency hospital may be displayed in only 2,500 square feet of space, yet show all essential elements.

Following the showing at Du Quoin, the unit will be used for training purposes at meetings of local Civil Defense groups, medical and nursing societies.

The Illinois Department of Public Welfare has accepted the responsibility for developing and training a staff of volunteers to operate a complete 200-bed hospital should a major disaster occur anywhere in Illinois.

"Though the 48,000 patients in our mental hospitals and schools are the Department of Public Welfare's first responsibility, we have accepted the added responsibility of providing leadership to point the way toward preparedness should disaster strike any community in Illinois," Dr. Bettag said.

He said Frederick Plotke, M.
D., chief of the Public Health Service for the Department of Public Welfare, has been designated to coordinate the emergency hospital project with federal and state agencies. On the emergency hospital staff are Mrs.
Ruth G. Fulcher, R. N., chief nurse; D. E. Fulcher, display administrator; and James Wood, engineer-technician.

Supplementing the mobile exhibit which features a working model of the complete 200-bed hospital will be an emergency feeding display, radioactive monitoring device, emergency drinking water facilities, detection kits for nerve gas, and latest type gas masks.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

There are occasions when a motorist is forced to pull off of the highway. Tire trouble, mechanical difficulties or an insect inside the vehicle are the most common causes which necessitate pulling out of traffic.

If you are faced with this problem, first make sure that you give the motorists behind you warning of your intentions. Do not pull off suddenly and without signaling. When you have pulled off of the road, make sure that your vehicle is completely off the pavement before stopping. And when you or your companions alight from your vehicle be certain that you do not get out on the traffic side of the road.

Some motorists apparently forget that the hard pavement is for moving traffic. Anyone who is even partly parked on the pavement is endangering his life and the lives of others.

We can put people at ease or stir up opposition by the emphasis we use. We convey indifference or enthusiasm by a rise or fall of sounds from our lips. Our feelings, our emotions, our hatreds and our love flow from our vocal chords.

The contagion of our voices moves others to thought and action. It inspires, discourages or even damages those within hearing distance.

Let us pray that God's voice may become so real to us that we may reflect His tone in our voices.
The world could be so easily lifted to a level of higher thinking and acting with the right tone of voice.

Mr. and Mrs. James Richard Baumgardner

Miss Suzann Madsen Becomes Bride of James Richard Baumgardner

Miss Suzann Madsen, daughter of Mrs. Helen Madsen, 530 NE 32nd Ter., Miami, Fla., and James Richard Baumgardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Baumgardner, were married in St. Mary's Catholic church, Miami, Fla., June 29. Rev. P. J. O'Donoghue performed the wedding ceremony before a group of friends and relatives.

The bride wore a ballerina length wedding gown of net over taffeta, styled with lace inserts at the yoke and in the overskirt. The bodice was fitted and had short sleeves. The skirt was bouffant. Her veil of illusion was fingertip length and secured to an orange blossom coronet and she carried a bouquet of white carnations surrounding a white orchid.

She was given in marriage by her uncle, Richard Dorris.

Mrs. Jane Krause, sister of the bride, served as her matron of honor and John C. Krause, brother-in-law of the bride acted as the best man. Mr. and Mrs. Krause were married early this summer.

There was a reception in the home of the bridegroom's parents at 566 NE 73rd street, Miami, immediately following the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Baumgardner are at home to their friends at 670 NE 38th Ter., Miami, Florida.

Mrs. Baumgardner is the niece of Lorene Dorris of Harrisburg and formerly lived in Harrisburg. Mrs. Madsen, Mr. Dorris and Mrs. Krause were also former Harrisburg residents.

Mrs. Minnie Dorris Celebrates 82nd Birthday With Children

Mrs. Minnie Dorris, Petersburg, celebrated her 82nd birthday in her home Tuesday. All of her four children were with her and she had many gifts and cards of remembrance from friends and relatives who could not be with her on that day. Mrs. Dorris has had many get-well cards and friendly letters in the months that she has been a shut-in. She has expressed gratitude and asked a blessing on those who have so favored her.

Attending the celebration were: Gertrude Dorris and Mr. and Mrs. Ransome Dorris, living in the home; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Anderson, Chatham, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gunter, Galatia. Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Gunter are daughters of Mrs. Dorris. Others present were: Grandson James Anderson, Chatham; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hopping, Georgetown, and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Todd, Secor. The latter are granddaughters' families.

Lawrence Owens has returned to his work at the Exide garage after a vacation, during which he visited friends in Joliet and vicinity.

A flower gets its perfume from a volatile oil which the plant makes itself.

Interim Pastor, Dr. H. L. Waters, Honored at Carrier Mills Baptist Church

Dr. H. L. Waters, interim pastor for the First Baptist church of Carrier Mills for the past five months, was honored with a potluck supper in the church basement, Tuesday evening. He finished his pastorate at the church, Wednesday.

Those attending the dinner were:

Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Waters and their granddaughters, Nita, Kathleen, Sahara and Elizabeth Johnson, Rev. John Beggs, Betzian Ammon, Dirla Dobrey, Gertie Killman, Ethel Rann, Zedie Holmes, Jane Puckett, Addie Miller, Raymond Allen, Lydia Sutton, Eva Nolen, Grace Henson, Aline Keel, L. C. Keel, Bertha Motesinger, Neller Hancock, Lillie Hanold, Hillis Mathews, Kathern Mathews.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. George Parks, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beggs, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edmondson, Mr. and Mrs. Parish Miller, Marigene Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Cebren Parks, Gordon Richey.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Damron, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davidson, Nina Davidson, Karen Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman O'Keefe, Johnnie O'Keefe, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Starkey, Elaine Starkey, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bell, Rosemary Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Dallas, Lorna Jane Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. George Hutson, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Blackman, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Robinson.

Bertie M. Smith, the new pastor, arrived Thursday to take up his duties.

Mrs. Mora Laxton Entertains Aletha Fuller Circle

The Aletha Fuller circle of the First Baptist church met recently in the country home of Mrs. Mora Laxton. This was the final calendar meeting for the year. Mrs. Albert Sisk presided in the absence of the president and Mrs. B. F. Taylor opened the meeting with prayer following which the group sang a hymn. The chairman gave committee reports and there were testimonials as to the feelings of blessings received from attendance at the circle meetings. Mrs. Clayton Humphrey, visiting the circle, closed the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Alta Williams was in charge of the program and read Matthew 13 for her scripture lesson, and spoke of the "Sower of the Seeds."

Prayers were said for missionaries as their names were read and the meeting closed with a hymn.

Annual Piano Recital Friday by Pupils Of Mrs. Perry Moore

The annual piano recital of the pupils of Mrs. Perry Moore will be held in the First Presbyterian church at 7:30 p. m. Friday. This year there will be some different forms of piano music presented, such as the Chaconne, which is an ancient dance form. There will be Nocturnes and Etudes by Chopin and the final number will be the Grieg Concerto in A minor. Ushers for the recital will be Marsha Boyd and Norma Taylor.

Former Carrier Mills Residents To Be Married In Pontiac

Miss Shirley Pyle of Carrier Mills is announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Shirley Pyle, to David Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wallace, RFD 1, Carrier Mills. Miss Pyle and Mr. Wallace are both employed in Pontiac, Mich. Wedding plans are indefinite.

The Rebekahettes Theta Rho girls' club will hold its regular meeting Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. All officers and members please be present. Mrs. George Chrisman, adviser.

There will be a stated meeting of Galatia IOOF Lodge No. 433 Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. All members are urged to attend and visitors are welcome.

The Garden Heights unit of Home Bureau will meet Tuesday for the annual picnic at the country home of Mrs. Robert Muege, RFD 1, Harrisburg.

Matter of FACT

The Brooklyn National League baseball team got its nickname, Brooklyn Dodgers, from a contraction of "Trolley Dodgers," a club nickname of the 1890's when Brooklyn was first introducing the trolley or streetcar to its streets. The Pittsburgh Pirates were so named because the club allegedly "pirated" players from other teams.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Arch Baker, who died Aug. 19, 1953.
We little thought when you left home,
You would return no more.
That when the evening sun had set,
You would be on heaven's shore.
God gave us strength to bear it,
And courage to meet the blow.
But what it meant to lose you,
This world will never know.
Sadly missed by his wife, Anna Baker, and daughter, Mrs. Karnes and granddaughter and his sisters, Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Wilson. *44-1

Stratton Names Two to School Problems Group

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. Stratton today announced two new appointments to the School Problems Commission, and the reappointment of three members.

The new commission members are R. Sargent Shriver, Chicago, president of the Chicago Board of Education, and John Kinley, Rockford, chairman of the school division of the Illinois State Bar Assn.

Reappointed were Harold W. Norman, Chicago; John Cox, Chicago; and Lester R. Crimm, Springfield. Cox is affiliated with the Illinois Agricultural Assn.; Grimm with the Illinois Education Assn.

The commission is an advisory group set up every two years to study and advise the governor and the Legislature on Illinois' educational problems.

The members of the commission serve for two year terms beginning each July 1. The governor appoints five members, in addition to five from the Senate, five from the House and the state superintendent of public instruction and the state finance director. Earlier the Senate Committee on Committees, which appoints the Senate members, increased the Republican Senate membership to four with the addition of Republican Sen. John P. Meyer, Danville. His appointments means either Sen. Marshall Korshak or Sen. Robert E. Cherry, both Chicago Democrats, will lose his commission assignment. Senate Democrats have not yet announced their appointment. Democrats charged the appointment of another Republican to the commission as a reprisal for the Democrats' determined efforts to enlarge the state school aid budget during the 1957 legislative session.

Cardinals Brake Braves' Runaway With Double Win; Cut Lead to 6½ Games

By United Press
They say lightning never strikes twice in the same place but the Milwaukee Braves know better to day after it struck County Stadium three times—once literally, and twice in the form of Stan Musial and Vinegar Bend Mizell.

A sharp bolt of the "real thing" hit the stadium during the second inning of Sunday's opener with the St. Louis Cardinals and before the day was ended Musial and Mizell struck two to produce an 8-6 and 6-0 sweep that cut the Braves' National League lead to 6½ games. Thus, the Cardinals "braked" the Milwaukee runaway and raised the possibility that there may yet be a close pennant race.

The New York Yankees, meanwhile, seemed to be making good on their long-predicted runaway threat in the American League when they swept the Baltimore Orioles, 7-0 and 3-2, to open up a 7½-game margin—their longest of the season. The second-place Chicago White Sox cooperated by dropping a 5-1 decision before beating the Detroit Tigers, 4-1.

The Chicago Cubs dealt the Cincinnati Redlegs their sixth consecutive setback, 8-2, the New York Giants beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-4 and 1-0, and the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8-6, after a 2-1 defeat in the other National League games. The Washington Senators whipped the Boston Red Sox, 6-4, and the Cleveland Indians drubbed the Kansas City Athletics in American League single games.

The Cardinals rallied for six runs in the last three innings of the 10-inning opener, Musial climaxing the comeback with a two-run homer, and then led all the way behind Mizell's four-hitter in the nightcap. Musial had two hits in each game to regain the NL batting lead with a .333 mark and his 2,933 hits now place him 11th on the all-time list. Mizell's victory was his fifth of the year and the first since July 29.

A crowd of 45,207 sat through the eight-hour and 18-minute double-header, which was held up two hours and 14 minutes by rain and ended at 10:48 p.m. e.d.t.

Bob Rush pitched an eight-hitter and Ernie Banks drove in three runs with a homer and double to lead the Cubs to their sixth straight win. Joe Nuxhall was knocked out in 4 2/3 innings and suffered his seventh loss for Cincinnati. The Cubs have won 12 of their last 15 games, three against the Redlegs.

Hank Sauer smashed two home runs to spark the Giants to their opening-game triumph and Al Worthington hurled a three-hitter to complete the sweep. Mike McCormick, 18-year-old bonus pitcher, received credit for his second win in the first game. The Phillies now have lost 14 of their last 18 games.

Duke Snider's 30th homer, a two-run shot in the seventh inning, gave Sal Maglie the nod over Bob Friend, who yielded only two hits, but the Pirates scored four runs against Clem Labine in the eighth to take the nightcap. Snider also homered in the second inning of the second game and now has hit at least 30 homers in each of the last five seasons.

Harrisburg Junior Legion Routs Eldorado, 27 to 2

Harrisburg's Junior Legion baseball team closed its season Sunday by bashing out 21 safe hits and routing Eldorado 27-2. The game was played on the Raleigh diamond.

Maynard hurled the first five innings for Harrisburg, with Hassett back of the plate. Hassett then pitched the final two innings and Aldridge was his receiver.

Aldridge and Clark paced the Harrisburg hitters, each with four blows. Maynard and Pavelonis had three each, Stone, Hassett and Pickford two each and Wath-an one.

Harrisburg finished the season with an overall record of 14 victories and three defeats and in regular league play won 12 and dropped two.

Manager Gilbert Maynard today said he wanted to thank everyone for the fine support the team received throughout the season.

Hoosier Boy Wins Soap Box Derby

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Terry Townsend, 14, Anderson, Ind., whose dad gave him a fancy set of power tools "to keep him busy," won the 20th annual All-American Soap Box Derby Sunday.

More than 60,000 persons watched Terry's white bullet-styled No. 6 streak to victory down Derby Downs hill.

His prizes included a full college scholarship and an all-expenses paid tour of Europe.

David Hakman, 15, Los Angeles, came in second and Andy Vasco, 15, St. Catharines, Ont., was third. David and Andy won $4,000 and $3,000 college scholarships respectively.

Close Pitches Part of Game, Hutchinson Says

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Hank Aaron, the young Milwaukee Brave slugger who accused St. Louis Cardinals pitchers of throwing at him, denounced "dust off" throwers as "not big league."

Cardinals manager Fred Hutchinson said Aaron, because he's a good hitter, has to expect "brush back pitches."

"What's Hutchinson talking about? I haven't complained about brush backs, but those guys are throwing at my head," said the youthful slugger who was sent sprawling in Saturday's game by a pitch from Larry Jackson.

"I don't think it's big league for any pitcher to intentionally throw at a hitter. They're making a joke of the game," he said.

Jackson denied he threw at Aaron. So did Sam Jones, who Aaron also accused of "making me hit the ground."

"If we wanted to, we could hit him," Jackson and Jones said. Hutchinson denied that he instructed his pitchers to "dust off" hitters. "But what they do on the mound is their own business."

"Those close pitches are part of the game. It's just that some of them get away from the pitcher," he said.

"Nothing doing," said Aaron. "That pitch by Jackson was behind me. He's not that wild."

Hutchinson retorted that the Braves threw at the Cardinals' Stan Musial in the series at St. Louis last week.

"You didn't hear him complain," said Hutchinson.

"They don't throw at Musial like the Cardinals have been throwing at me. I have to be like a rabbit up there," said Aaron.

"If what happened Saturday worries him," said Hutchinson, "he'll probably get a lot more of it."

Bob Taylor Granted Late Registration at SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill. — A new Southern Illinois University student this week was given permission to register late for the fall term because he wants to play baseball and, probably, attend the World Series.

"Ordinarily," explained Dean Jerry J. Rehn, head of the SIU School of Business, "the World Series wouldn't be enough of a reason to permit a person to register late, but this student may be playing it off."

The student, who presented a transcript filled with A's and B's, is Bob Taylor, catcher from Metropolis, who is now with the league-leading Milwaukee Braves. Taylor, highest bonus player in the history of baseball, recently received more than $100,000 for signing a contract with the Braves. He was graduated from Metropolis high school in June.

Taylor plans to major in business.

Looking at Sports

BY BILL MELTON

The Eldorado Township high school new gymnasium is coming along in fine shape and should be completed in time for the coming season, with a possibility that early practice sessions may be held in the old gym, a spokesman declared a few days ago.

A large number of workmen were busy in the huge structure when I made a short visit recently.

The overhead steel work was receiving a coat of paint, concrete finishers were smoothing the concrete tiers for the seating, two carpenters were giving the lumber for the seats a finishing touch, painters were painting the seat lumber blue-grey and other workmen were installing the rows of bleacher seats.

There will, in addition to the bleacher seats, be three rows of theater type seats, I was told.

There will be one row of the comfortable chairs at the top of the bleachers and two rows at playing floor level.

"The gym will seat 3,500 to 4,000. It will be the biggest, or at least one of the biggest, in southern Illinois," the spokesman declared.

The decking is all on and work has been started on the roof. Weather shouldn't be a factor now in the interior work and hopes are high that the gym will be ready for use not later than the middle of October.

I can well remember when what is now Eldorado's old gym was built. It was considered a big one at that time, some 20 years ago. Tournaments were held there.

But for the past several years it has been referred to as a "cracker box" and is by present day standards.

The new gym should be sufficiently large to handle most any tournament that might come to southern Illinois.

Saline county will be well blessed with high school gyms.

Carrier Mills and Galatia, while not having unusually large gyms, have very fine ones and Harrisburg and Eldorado will have gyms with seating capacities equal to any in these parts.

Received from the University of Illinois athletic publicity office is a release headed—"A personal note from Ray Elliot"—It says in part: "About two weeks ago, we at Illinois were stunned by the news that 'Mac' Wenskunas, captain of our first Rose Bowl team in 1946, 47, and his wife had been killed in an automobile accident near Decatur, Aug. 3. The blow was made even heavier by realization that they left four youngsters, age 3 to 11."

"Friends of 'Mac' immediately began a drive for funds for the children. They asked me to head the campaign. Because my time is so limited at this time of year, I was reluctant to accept. Finally we agreed that donations could be sent me, and I set up an account at the First National Bank in Champaign.

"... Donations may be mailed to me at 104 Huff Gym, Champaign, Ill."

About half of the University of Illinois football squad worked at construction jobs this summer to keep in condition. Included in the ten grid candidates working on highway construction were quarterback Russ Martin of Carbondale and guard Lindell Lovellette of Eldorado.

The University of Illinois will play a night football game for the second time in history of the school when U.C.L.A. furnishes opposition in Los Angeles Coliseum Friday, Sept. 27. Only other night game was against the same school on the same field—Oct. 13, 1950. The Illinois won 14-6.

Bob "Hawk" Taylor, the Metropolis "bonus beauty" with Milwaukee, got into the Milwaukee-St. Louis games Saturday as a pinch runner and did his job well.

Taylor went from first to third on a single, sliding into third like an old professional, then came in with the tying run on another safe hit.

The game was one of the televised "games of the week" and the camera followed him right into third base, his fine slide being seen by hundreds of thousands.

That was his third or fourth appearance as a pinch runner. His great speed was one of the things that attracted major league scouts. He ran the 100 yards dash in 10.4 in the Southern Illinois track meet at McLeansboro this spring. Then he was running for glory. Now he is running for gold.

Next Wednesday night the VFW will play the Blufford Legion at 8 p. m. on VFW Memorial field. In an earlier game the VFW edged the Legion 5-4.

VFW Loses 6-4 At McLeansboro

The VFW baseball team lost a 6-4 game to the McLeansboro Pirates on the Pirates' field Sunday afternoon. A large crowd of Harrisburg fans were on hand to witness the first loss for the VFW in its last 8 games. The season record now stands at 18-8.

Don Stout pitched a fine game for Harrisburg and, except for the short left center field fence, would probably have got another win.

The winners scored all of their runs in the first two innings, 4 of the runs being accounted for by pop flies over the fence. Stout allowed only one hit and no runs over the remainder of the game.

The locals went to work on Krehler, the Pirates' fine pitcher, but could chisel out only 4 runs with their 10 hit attack as they left 12 men stranded. Romonosky with two doubles and a single, led the local hitters. Dallas had a double and a single, Ziegler had a double and four walks in one official trip and McNew and Vick got single hits to round out the local hitters. Robinson and Stover had 2 hits each to lead the winners.

Next Wednesday night the VFW will play the Blufford Legion at 8 p. m. on VFW Memorial field. In an earlier game the VFW edged the Legion 5-4.

Musial Holds Batting Lead

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Veteran Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals held today after breaking out of a mild slump, and joined select groups of major leaguers with more than 2,900 base hits and 5,000 total bases in his brilliant career.

The 36-year-old slugger got four hits in 10 tries in a double-header against the Milwaukee Braves Sunday, including his 20th homer which won the first game. St. Louis swept both games, 8-6 and 6-0, to narrow Milwaukee's league lead to 6 1/2 games over the second place Cardinals.

Musial's current lifetime total of 2,933 hits moves him into 11th place ahead of Rogers Hornsby and Jacob Beckley in that department, and his 5,001 total bases puts him in a class with five other

Compete for Small Bore Rifle Championships

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—Competition for the national small-bore rifle championships rolled into high gear today.

On tap were the 50-yard, 50-meter and 100-yard metallic sight matches.

Last year's champions in the same events were Ransford D. Triggs, Madison, N. J.; Arthur E. Cook, Silver Spring, Md., and Ray H. Steele, Denver, Colo.

During the next six days, 575 of America's top small bore rifle shooters will vie for the national title held by Kenneth Johnson of Washington, Pa.

Also at stake will be the women's title, held by Mrs. Viola E. Pollum of Brookville, Pa., and the junior title won last year by Thomas R. Holm of Des Moines, Iowa.

Sunday the U. S. Army's International rifle squad won top honors by taking the first three places in the world free rifle 50-meter match. A field of 150 competed.

1st Lt. Daniel B. Buckel of Knoxville, Tenn., broke the national match record of 1,156 set by Gordon J. Taras in 1956. His score was 1,170.

He was followed by teammates 1st Lt. Verle F. Wright of Fort Wayne, Ind., with 1,161 and 1st Lt. James S. Carter of Pasadena, Calif., with 1,156.

players who have reached the 5,000 mark.

Musial, who seeks his seventh batting title, holds the league lead with a .333 average—two points ahead of Dick Groat of Pittsburgh and six ahead of Hank Aaron of Milwaukee, Frank Robinson of Cincinnati and Willie Mays of New York.

Musial, who was named the "major league player of the decade" in a poll by the Sporting News of St. Louis last year, has won the National League batting crown six times and was the latest repeater when he won it in 1950-51-52.

He said he has resumed playing both games of double-headers because he has felt stronger since the weather turned cooler. He started sitting out second games in mid-June because the heat weakened him.

LOOKS GOOD — Karen Hantz, San Diego's 14-year-old, established herself as a possible successor to Maureen Connolly after reaching the semi-finals of the eastern grass court championship, although entering the affair as an unseeded player.

STAMPEDE AT BLUE SPRINGS

BY GENE OLSON

THE STORY: Marshal Harney Blanchard has ridden with Pike Ambrose to meet Dan and Eric Clement, brothers suspected of holding Pete Dorsey, who was kidnapped from Blanchard. Blanchard gets veiled threats, but no help from the Clements.

Away from The Narrows, the wind dropped and the air cleared some of dust. It was an easy, quiet ride until we were a mile from Hawk's ferry. Then Blanchard turned in the saddle.

"Pike, you don't like Blue Springs. And Blue Springs has got little time for you."

"That's their worry," I said, wondering what he was digging at.

"You thought a lot of Barney. Still you want to help me save Pete. You got to admit it doesn't make sense."

I got a little mad, without knowing why. "It makes sense to me, Harney. If you don't think so, why—"

"Whoa. Bank your fire. I'm in no position to argue with you. Like to know a little more about you, that's all. Who in particular you got your sights on?"

"Nobody in particular," I said, cooling off, feeling foolish. "It's a tinhorn town full of tinhorn folks. You saw that last night. What other town would stand by for what happened?"

"I admit I've seen towns with more gumption."

Blanchard rode along without saying anything, seeing that I had the bit in my teeth. Crossing the prairie at an easy walk, I started to talk. I talked about Pa and what happened, letting the words come out just as fast as they came into my head. I told him how every time something was missing around town, folks looked squint-eyed at me, Pike Ambrose, who never stole anything in his life, except a few eggs now and then and you can't really count that stealing.

We rode across the prairie toward The Rock and I never stopped talking. At Pa's grave, I pulled up Goliath and pointed down at the split headboard. "There he is, stuck in the ground out here by himself. Lillian helped me do it and read the Bible over him. They wouldn't have him in the town cemetery."

Blanchard got down from Pilot and let the reins drop. He walked around the grave, slow. "All right. You don't have to say any more."

"Yes I do. You let me side you and it'll be bad for you in town. But I can help you, Harney."

"You already have."

"I'm scrawny but I'm tough. I own a rifle and know this country. I rode over every acre of it one time or another."

"You sure you know what kind of a mess you're buying into?"

"I sure do."

"All right. One thing more. Why haven't you left Blue Springs?"

"The minute I went away, folks would feel good. They'd say they drove me out and they'd have a round of drinks on that. Be darned if I'll give 'em the pleasure."

Blanchard tipped back his hat. "Pike, you're one of the meanest, stubbornest critters I ever knew."

A grin flickered across his face and I felt good. He crawled back up on Pilot and we headed back toward town, me and Blanchard.

Blanchard said, "Pike, what Dorsey did was a bad thing. But he doesn't deserve to die for it."

Walking in on Depot St., nearing Lillian's house, Blanchard pulled up. He leaned on the pommel and looked at Lillian and Dick. Lillian looked our way, then turned back to hanging up clothes. Dick limped around, getting in the way like a four-year-old will, then saw us and waved.

Blanchard said, "So that's a good woman, Pike."

"The only one in town worth salt."

Blanchard made a throat noise.

"But Barney's widow. Think how you'd feel, in her place."

I got discouraged then. I just shook my head. I didn't know what more I could say to prove she was a good woman.

He said, "Suppose I said that she's back of it all, that she planned it and got the Clements to do it. What would you say?"

"I'd say you're crazy, Harney."

Blanchard chuckled. "Now there's a straight answer. Let's talk to her again."

Lillian stopped working when we came into the yard. Dick came over and rubbed Pilot's nose. I couldn't see that Lillian was happy we came.

Blanchard said, "Wonder if we could talk a little more, Mrs. Jethroe."

"Certainly. If there's more to say."

I got down from Goliath and squeezed Dick's shoulder. He grinned at me. "Ma'am," I said, "we got to know about Cole. If they're waiting for Cole, it makes a big difference."

Lillian eyed Blanchard, who'd got down from Pilot. She said, SHOOTING HIGH—Solving the problem of getting the right photographs at crowded events, photographer Mark Duffy goes up in the world at Kansas City, Mo. Using a pair of light metal stilts, the cameraman is head and shoulders above the crowd as he shoots away at the annual convention of the Communications Workers of America.

"Do you want to know, Pike? Or does Mr. Blanchard want to know?"

"I... I guess that don't matter now," I said, looked at Blanchard.

"I'm surprised, marshal," Lillian said. "It had never occurred to me that Harney Blanchard might need help."

It wasn't a good thing to say and I couldn't rightly understand why she said it, except that she was worried and upset. Blanchard just shrugged, letting me keep the play.

I said, "We need any help we can get, ma'am. Maybe Dan said something."

Lillian's eyes held to mine. "Pike... could I talk to you alone?"

Name Members of Community Election Boards

L. B. Kimmel, chairman of the Saline County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee election board, announced today that community committee election boards have been selected for all communities in this county. Committee members elected will take office October 1, 1957, and will serve until elections are held next year.

"This year community elections will be held by meetings on Sept. 9," Chairman Kimmel stated. The designation of meeting places will be among the first duties of the newly selected community election boards. Announcement of these meeting places will be made as soon as possible. Members of community election boards for Saline county are: BRUSHY: W. B. Puliam, John C. Small and Clyde Rice; CARRIER MILLS: Earl O. Keefe, Elmer Nurrenbern and Carl Vance; COTTAGE: Willie Robinson, Grover C. Wise and J. W. Wintzler; ELDORADO: Victor Suttner, Nelson Fowler and Lee R. Smith; GALATIA: Noble Williams, Ewell Harris and James L. Byrd; HARRISBURG: H. Ward Baker, John Endsley Jr., and Emmet Buchanan; INDEPENDENCE: Cecil Nelson, Cletis Wiley and Theo Warren; LONG BRANCH: Norman Hale, Lowell Tison and Earl Mings; MOUNTAIN: Robert DeNeal, Wayne Seten and Howard Wathen; RALEIGH: Raymond E. McConnell, Ore Elder and George H. Oglesby; RECTOR: James T. Garner, Otto Benson and Thomas R. Porter; STONEFORT: Orval Gross, Ralph H. Lewis and Roy Murphy; TATE: Egbert Tate, Lloyd H. Cotter and Thomas H. Weight.

In order to be eligible to vote in the community committee elections, a person must have an interest in a farm in the community as owner, tenant or sharecropper, must be participating in the Agricultural Conservation Program, or carrying out on his farm one of the eligible practices covered by that program, or be eligible for price support on one or more agricultural commodities he produces, or be eligible for a payment under the Sugar program.

The chairman pointed out that this is the farmers' opportunity to participate in choosing the men who will administer the Price Support, Crop Allotment and Quota, Agricultural Conservation, Sugar Acreage Reserve and Conservation Reserve programs during the coming year.

285,391 Receive Public Assistance For Month of June

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—The Illinois Public Aid Commission today reported the five assistance programs cost $13,737,421 for 285,391 persons during June.

This was a drop from the May figures when the caseload totaled 289,645 and expenditures totaled $13,849,913.

However, the June figures were greater than those for June, 1956, when the caseload was 268,306 and expenditures were $12,559,952.

Caseloads and expenditures for the five programs in June were:

General assistance, 74,458 persons and $2,759,048; old age assistance, 86,951 persons and $5,825,786; blind assistance, 3,430 persons and $237,712; disability assistance, 12,947 persons and $1,047,854; aid to dependent children, 108,791 persons and $3,867,021.

Only 70 Cases of Paralytic Polio in Week

WASHINGTON, Mo.—Only 70 cases of paralytic polio were reported in the United States last week, compared with 360 in the same week last year, the Public Health Service announced today. The report represented another tribute to the success of the Salk vaccine.

Total cases reported through last weekend were less than half the number recorded through the same date in 1956—2,897 against 6,179. The week saw a total of 356 new cases, only 70 of which were paralytic.
